

THE GEORGE HOTEL

Awarded Best Gastro Pub in Scotland

Classic French cuisine combined with traditional Scottish style

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

DATING

ANNOUNCEMENTS

BOOK AN AD

SUBSCRIBE

REGISTER | SIGN-IN

SEARCH

heraldscotland

The Herald sundayherald

Glasgow 14.7°c

THE GEORGE HOTEL

Awarded Best Gastro Pub in Scotland

Classic French cuisine combined with traditional Scottish style

NEWS

POLITICS

SPORT

BUSINESS

OPINION

ARTS & ENTS

LIFE & STYLE

HOMES

MOTORS

JOBS

PUZZLES

Arts & Ents

TV & Radio

Music

Film

Stage

Visual

Books & Poetry

Opinion

Edinburgh Fringe

Listings

Fringe Children's Shows: We are the monsters, Summerhall; The Soundimals Tamer, Institut francais d'Écosse; Madama Butterfly; Institut francais d'Écosse

Stuart Meyers, Maxwell McCarthy and Asaf Hochman in We Are The Monsters
Edinburgh Fringe 2015
summerhall.co.uk
madeinscotlandshowcase.com
Photographer - kalle-kukkonen

Colette Sadle: We are the Monsters. Theater an der Parkaue 2015. (36222439)

Mary Brennan / Monday 24 August 2015 / Arts & Ents

Share

0 comments

Fringe Children's Shows

We are the monsters

Summerhall

FOUR STARS

Keep in touch with local news

Sign up for email alerts

THE GEORGE HOTEL

Awarded Best Gastro Pub in Scotland

Classic French cuisine combined with traditional Scottish style

Most Popular Most Commented

- Former Sex Pistols frontman John Lydon: I was banned from BBC in 1978 for speaking out about Jimmy Savile

1
- Fishermen welcome North Sea cod's removal from danger list

2
- Janet McKay death: Row breaks out over missing persons investigation

3
- The fearless, peerless comedy of Doug Stanhope

4
- Jesus and Mary Chain recording

5

The Soundimals Tamer

Institut francais d'Écosse

THREE STARS

Madam Butterfly

Institut francais d'Écosse

THREE STARS

Mary Brennan

Young eyes see things – even everyday, familiar things – differently from adults. Luckily choreographer Colette Sadler shares that free-fall ability to look at empty card-board boxes, or the droopy arms of a cast-off anorak and think: alien critters... maybe, monsters! In her work for adult audiences, Sadler has often conjured hybrid forms where the pliancy of dancers is melded with inanimate objects in a quizzical look at evolution. Here, in We are the monsters, her first dance piece for children (aged 4 to 9) she shapes the playful possibilities of oddball combinations into a posse of bizarre beings who co-exist in a landscape of cardboard boxes. Bit by bit, those boxes give up secrets. A waggly protruberance pokes out – is it an eye-stalk? a tentacle? and who or what is it attached to? There's just a hint of scary unknowns in the initial encounters, but these monsters are essentially fun-loving, friendly creatures, their weird lumps and bumps and bulges encased in shiny-stretchy costumes or clever topsy-turvy amalgums of trousers and jackets. There's a lot of personality, mischief and humour under the fur fabric, while spotting how the ordinary clothes have become monster-costumes is a treat in itself – look out for kids trying this at home, turning all the family hoodies into a giant creepy-crawly with no head!

(run ended)

Hearing is believing in the Soundimals Tamer because there are no animals – not even a flea – to be seen in this circus ring. It's probably just as well the lion isn't lurking in one of the up-stage crates: Tony Gratoski is such an inept keeper-cum-trainer, the beast would be out of the tent and on the prowl for snacks before the Sound Manipulator could press the whiplash button on his desktop. The whip, by the way, is actually a short piece of cord, and despite the impressive ring-master uniform, Gratoski is really a rubber-faced clown with a flair for making us buy into his animal act illusions. If his is a performance grounded in old-style buffoonery – grandiose intentions forever wrong-footed by misfortune, usually of his own contrivance – the twist is in the new technology that can underpin the make-believe with its witty noises off. Even that lion can be heard to laugh when Gratoski cracks the whip and ineffectually orders the big cat to do tricks. Luckily, help was at hand. A little girl in the front row answered Gratoski's call for an assistant and proved a perfect accessory to his tomfoolery. In some ways, this seems a simple show for 5+ audiences, good-natured and daft. It only seems that way because the sound effects and the clowning are anchored in richly astute experience and techniques – invisible big cats, and helpful little girls, wouldn't laugh at anything less!

(until August 31)

Puccini for three-year-olds? Madama Butterfly expressed through dance? In truth, solo performer Nathalie Cornille isn't slavishly replaying the opera or its tragic narrative: she's offering a caringly crafted soupcon of these art-forms to very young audiences who – unlike many adults – don't have the "it's not for me" preconceptions. Dressed in white, Cornille moves elegantly to selected arias from Madama Butterfly, her dance more redolent of fleeting moods than exact story-telling. When she temporarily leaves the stage, video-footage – projected onto a large fan of white material– continues the stream of movement and music, with animation adding in symbolic imagery. There's no hari-kiri, no death, only a fluttering fall of white petals and the sense that, for some children at least, a portal has been opened on classic art forms.

(until August 31)

Share article

first album in 17 years
Dave King: Charles Green's call for Rangers to pay Sevco criminal case legal fees will be resisted	6
Thousands watch as iconic power station chimneys are razed	7
Erskine old soldiers home due to close	8
How Cameron panicked and called on Queen to save the Union	9
Lunar eclipse to create 'blood moon' spectacle on Monday	10
In Pictures: MCM Scotland Comic Con 2015 at Glasgow's SECC	11
Renting is the "new normal" for younger Scots	12
Fear of underworld feud after gangster's friend shot in street	13
Sir Cliff Richard ignores sex abuse questions at 75th birthday tour opener	14
Review: Kevin Bridges, SSE Hydro, Glasgow	15
"Please don't leave," pleads top Scot in EU	16
Family demand answers over college executive's suicide	17
Who wore it best? Carol Kirkwood and Louise Minchin have fashion clash on BBC Breakfast	18
Kilmarnock 1 Hamilton 2	19
Giant West of Shetland oil and gas fields near start of production	20

Promoted stories

- Corrie Star Leaves Show As He Battles Illness (Entertainment Daily)
- What This Brave Lion Did For Her Cubs Will Leave You Speechless (Fuzzfix)
- Belfast and Beyond – A Giant Journey of Incredible Coastline (Ireland.com)
- APP to Retire Commercial Plantations to Cut Carbon Emissions (Environmental Leader)
- Female Athletes Who Are Out Of Your League (Whats Buzzing Now)
- 1 Stupid Reason Behind All Sluggish Computers (Speed Fix Tool)

Recommended by

More stories

Promoted Stories

Woman Shows How Unrealistic Celeb Selfies Are (Time To Break)

The average salary in the UK is £33,157. Calculate how much your CV is worth
(The Independent News)

Why The Government Is Paying Homeowners To Go Solar
(User account | news.theecoexperts.co.uk)

Phillip Schofield Makes His Feelings Clear On Amanda Holden
(Entertainment Daily)

Recommended by

Ads by Google

Herald Drive Car Search

Find your next car at Herald Drive Search 10,000+ premium used cars

www.heralddrive.co.uk

People who read this article also read

Fringe Theatre Reviews:
Smash it Up, Summerhall;
Tar Baby, Gilded Balloon;
Penny Arcade: Longing Lasts
Longer, Underbelly

Fringe Music review: Silver
Darlings, The Famous
Spiegeltent, St. Andrew's
Square Gardens

Sunday Herald review: A Girl
Is A Half-Formed Thing, 887,
Butterfly, The Christians, The Gospel According To Jesus
Queen Of Heaven

Fringe Q&As: Garrett
Millerick on what he's said to taxi drivers and 12 years at the Fringe

Fringe Q&As: Samuel Brett
Williams on his play Derby

Fringe Q&As: In Cahoots on positive heckling, haggis

Day and having beans for breakfast in Scotland

pizza and Mhairi Black

heraldscotland

Comments & Moderation

We moderate all comments on Herald Scotland on either a pre-moderated or post-moderated basis. If you're a relatively new user then your comments will be reviewed before publication and if we know you well and trust you then your comments will be subject to moderation only if other users or the moderators believe you've broken the rules

READ THE NEW RULES HERE

Moderation is undertaken full-time 9am-6pm on weekdays, and on a part-time basis outwith those hours. Please be patient if your posts are not approved instantly.

Fringe Children's Shows: We are the monsters, Summerhall; The Soundimals Tamer, Institut francais d'Écosse; Madama Butterfly; Institut francais d'Écosse

Please sign in or register to leave a comment

Your comment

Remember that you are personally responsible for what you post on this site and must abide by our site terms. Do not post anything that is false, abusive or malicious. If you wish to complain, please use the 'Report' link underneath the comment.

Post comment

Sign in or Register to get comment alerts.

THE GEORGE HOTEL

Awarded Best Gastro Pub in Scotland

Classic French cuisine combined with traditional Scottish style

heraldscotland

© Copyright 2015

Herald & Times Group

All rights reserved

Terms & Conditions

Privacy Policy

How We Use Cookies

Employment

Our News Services

Mobile

Apps and Kindle

Newspaper

Digital Editions

Back Issues

Online Archive

Email, Twitter, RSS

Syndication

Our Advertising Services

Family Notices

Book Your Newspaper

Ad online

Contact the Sales Team

View Newspaper Ads

Commercial Features

Our Personal Services

Help, Feedback &

Contact

Dating

Travel Services

Photo Sales

Crosswords & Sudoku

Our Colleagues

Evening Times

The National

Scotland's Homes

The Scottish Farmer

Scottish Horse

Herald Drive

Times Out

Newsquest Media

Group

Scottish Newspaper

Printers

s1homes.com

s1rental.com

s1jobs.com

IPSO
REGULATED

This website and associated newspapers adhere to the Independent Press Standards Organisation's Editors' Code of Practice. If you have a complaint about the editorial content which relates to inaccuracy or intrusion, then please contact the editor here. If you are dissatisfied with the response provided you can contact IPSO here